

PROVIDENCE CHURCH

Prayer of Recommitment:

Jesus, everything is yours. I am your investment manager on Earth. Thank you for trusting me with Earthly money and possessions. I give back to you ownership of:

I turn away from mammon and turn to you now for grace and help. Forgive me for where I've mismanaged your funds or have made it my primary focus to accumulate for myself and my HH alone. Help me to be generous and willing to share and trust you to provide all my needs. May Your Kingdom come, on Earth as it is in Heaven.

Questions in Community

- What do we in the modern church trust, and where do we look for our security? How do accumulated wealth and other vehicles of "financial security" figure in our estimates of our own safety?
- What do we hope for most in our lives? Conversely, what do we fear most deeply? How are these things bound up with the level of our material existence?
- What do we pursue above everything else? On what basis do we make decisions about where we work, where we live, and what we do with our time? What do these decisions reveal about our central value of our lives and how do we contribute to reinforcing them?
- What family values are we sharing around money and possessions? How do they align with Kingdom principles?
- As my standard of living has grown, has my standard of giving grown also?
- Take a look at the % of your HH income that you spend monthly, versus put away for retirement, versus give away. How does that reflect what you currently value?
